HIGH MOUNTAINS OF WYOMING.

The highest mountain in Wyoming is Gannett peak, whose elevation, according to a chart published by the United States geological survey, is 13,785 feet above sea level. The Grand Teton is a close second at 13,747 feet, and Fremont peak Is only 17 feet lower. There are six additional mountains higher than 13,000 feet, their elevations ranging from 13,007 feet for Knife Point mountain to 13,600 feet for Mount Helen. But these are not all the lofty mountains in the state, for there are in addition 21 named peaks and about 40 unnamed peaks whose altitudes are above 12,000 feet. Wyoming has, therefore, some 70 mountain peaks that rise more than 12,000 feet above
